

COVER SENATORS FLEXIBLE CLAUSE

Issues Statement After Conference With Senate Leaders

Must be undertaken at the regular session which would be prevented by carrying the debate into the first session.

Some of the senators considered progress hopeless as it appeared that the coalition intended to delay or defeat legislation or did not intend to give adequate protection to industry.

Others felt that some understanding should be given to agriculture and to the industries where the emergency situation demanded their assistance.

He stated that he could not believe, and therefore would not admit, that the United States Senate was unable to legislate and that the interests of the country required that legislation should be completed during the special session.

"DECLINES TO INTERFERE."

The President has declined to interfere or to express any opinion on the details of rates or any compromise thereof, as it is obvious that, for any other reason, he could not pretend to have the necessary information to render to many thousands of different interests which such decisions require, but he pointed out that the wide differences of opinion and the length of the discussion in the Senate were themselves ample demonstration of the desirability of a real flexible clause in order that the industry which could be promptly corrected by scientific and impartial investigation and put in action without delays as the present discussions give proof.

"He urged the Republican leaders to expedite the early completion of the schedules and the House bill to conference with the Senate within the next two weeks."

Sen. Watson of Indiana, Republican leader who is preparing to leave for Florida, said he intended to relinquish temporarily his leadership to Sen. Jones of Washington, aware at the outset of the Senate session and told of the conference at the White House.

HOOVER ANNOYS

Watson said he had not asked the President if he would sign the tariff bill in its present form or whether he would make any concessions to the Republican Independent Democratic coalition program. He added he had no idea what Mr. Hoover would do with the measure but insisted the Chief Executive was "anxious" to have tariff legislation.

Emphasizing his statement by pointing on the desk the Republican leader said:

"I think this tariff bill can be passed."

URGENT LEGISLATION.

The trouble is we are not prepared to pass the subject in a constructive way," he said, adding that the will to pass a tariff act is an inevitable precursor to passage of the bill itself.

"As long as men hold either at tariff as a health and a capital we will never get anywhere," Watson continued. "But if men sit down at a table and contemplate the situation with a will to do a thing, it always can be done."

"There are men here who represent agriculture, states and who realize there must be increases in farm tariffs. There are men here who represent industrial states who believe that some of their industries are entitled to additional rates. Let us get together and accomplish a common purpose."

MIST DEBATE, SAYS BORAH

Watson's speech started with a word of reply.

Senator Borah of Idaho, a leader of the independents, said he would be one of the first to expedite the bill by limitation of debate, but the great issue of restoring agriculture to equality with industry is one that can be settled in no way except in the open and frank discussion of the Senate.

Sen. Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the Senate Finance committee, said "your differences cannot now be compromised."

Sen. Harrison, Democrat, Missouri, said the Democrats were willing to compromise on the passage of the bill but demanded that the President state his views now and not wait until the measure reached conference.

Borah also said there was "no use talking about not passing a bill, for there are enough votes to defeat it that is one thing, but to abandon it and refuse to legislate is unthinkable."

Halt Bingham Rebuke; Grill Texan on Lobby

Tariff Association, testified before the lobby committee today, he thought Representative Garner of Texas, House Democratic leader, should be defeated for Congress because of his attitude toward tariff legislation.

Chairman Cawaway asked Kirby, who is a multi-millionaire Texas lumberman, if he knew that J. A. Arnold, secretary of the American National commission from Texas, sought to harm him.

"I think someone ought to put out one view," Kirby answered, adding that he approved Senator Bingham's action in getting Kirby before the committee.

"KIRK IS ARKANSAS"

"I thought Bingham's explanation was honorable and fair, and I approved his action in getting Kirby before the committee," Kirby said.

"I don't know what they mean before I answered," Kirby then said and the membership of his association was about 50 per cent Democratic and had members all over the South, even in Arkansas.

"Kirby said one conference of the Tariff Association was addressed by Calvin Coolidge when he was President."

"We had the happiness of seeing the Democratic platform last time take our position in tariff matters," he went on.

"He said the association stood for a 'compromise' tariff which would enable the lumberman to retain the tariff."

"I approved of members of Congress getting technical information from those who know," Kirby said.

"What is a good thing, it is a good thing to stand for it openly," Kirby said.

"Yes," he said, but added he had heard Bingham's explanation and approved it.

"Five minutes after the first S.O.S. was picked up, Shobohin, Connecticut, left for the work."

Coast guardmen, under Capt. William Kincaid, and four lifeboats left Milwaukee harbor after a rough fishing trip from Port Washington and out to port the rescue fleet. In view of the danger, one of the worst in years, it was thought the various boats were in difficulty in reaching the Marquette, an ore carrier.

A few minutes after noon a midget schooner and the steam tug J. J. Sullivan was three miles from the scene of the collision and was proceeding to the rescue.

FEAR MARKET CRASH EFFECT ON U. S. PURSE

Prospective Income Returns Shrink: Glass Would Tax Speculators

Washington, Oct. 31.—Now that the word of the stock market crash is believed to have been official and political Washington began to try to emerge from the slump.

Three aspects of the situation today engaged the attention of the legislative and executive branches of the government.

1.—It is considered certain that a real effort will be made in the approaching regular session of Congress to place a curb on speculative income.

2.—Real concern is felt at the treasury and in financial quarters over the enormous shrinkage of governmental income.

3.—Democrats are going to make as much political capital out of the calamity as possible.

SAFE ROBBERY OF JEWELRY AND OFFICE CASH

Burglars Make Escape as a Policeman Awaits Aid to Capture Them

Providence, Oct. 31.—Calvin, seized in securing a safe in the office of John H. White & Son, Inc., 27 Westmain st., in full view from the street, burglar escaped with $200 cash and $200 jewelry as discovered by a policeman.

Later a big machine believed to contain the safebreakers twice tried to run down policemen who attempted to stop it early today. The registration number was taken.

Patrolman Arthur G. Thayer was making his rounds when he saw men working on the safe in the lighted office of White & Son, cash dealers.

He stepped to the curb and rapped with his nightstick for assistance. In a few minutes two automobile men of policemen were on the scene. They surrounded the building, only to discover the burglar had escaped, running to a rear office, climbing over a fence, and disappearing.

STOBBS PLANS PROTEST ON REVOCATION

Indignant at the suspension of his automobile license for a road violation he considers "trivial," Congressman George E. Stobbs of Worcester, was planning today a vigorous protest to Congress of Motor Vehicles George A. Parker.

Congressman Stobbs, who was one of the latest batch of 200 drivers to lose their licenses in the State-wide drive to make the highways safe, was nabbed by a motor vehicles inspector at Wayland and was charged with "having operated a motor vehicle in an improper manner."

Inquiry at the registry of motor vehicles elicited the information that the inspector had reported the congressman for "passing other cars on a curve on a blind hill" on October 26.

The suspension will cover a period of five days, officials at the "motor vehicle registry" declared today, starting from the day the registry receives Stobbs' license.

In announcing his plan to protest the suspension, he said he recalled passing a slow-moving truck on a curve, and that clear vision shed of him at the time.

"As I passed the truck," he said, "I noticed a state police officer taking down my number, and although I had no signal to stop, I drove up at the roadside and went back to speak to the officer. I asked him why he had taken down my number and he replied that he did not think I should have passed the truck at that point. The officer seemed so trivial to me that I continued on my way and thought no more of it."

A daily average of 200 suspensions or revocations of licenses is resulting from the highway safety drive. The latest list shows an increase in the number of women drivers who had been caught in the police net for violators.

Arthur J. Young of Cedar at Worcester, a prominent lawyer, is

Leaving Line at Railroad Crossing Dangerous

Section 2.—In crossing, or upon approaching an intersection of highways or the intersection of a highway by a railroad right of way, the driver of a vehicle shall at all times cause such vehicle to travel on the right half of the roadway unless such right half is impassable."

By DR. MILLEN McCLINTOCK
Traffic Expert, Department of Public Works

This rule is designed to prohibit dangerous and inconvenient practices at intersections. Drivers approaching any intersection—whether themselves or others by attempting to overtake vehicles by driving upon the left side of the roadway. Vehicles turning out of side streets may readily collide with them. Pedestrians do not expect under normal conditions, movement on the left side of the highway, visibility is often obstructed by waiting traffic, and collisions with pedestrians or crossing drivers may readily take place.

Driving upon the left side of a highway approaching a railroad crossing is especially dangerous, as visibility of the tracks is often reduced by traffic already standing or moving slowly upon the proper side of the highway.

In addition to the safety aspects the rule also has great utility in reducing congestion.

Dr. McClintock will comment daily on the new highway rules in the columns of the Boston Evening American.

Prince Tells Why He Doesn't Get Married

London, Oct. 31 (AP)—Here is the story of why Prince Albert, Duke of York, says he has not married.

"During 12 hours of every day I have to be what other people call a 'Prince'." During the rest of the day I should have to be a 'man'.

The Prince said today in a statement that he is not married because he is not a 'man'.

VOTE FOR CURLEY AND PROGRESS

TUESDAY, November 5th

Hon. James M. Curley is a master of Municipal Government who, with other broad-minded far-seeing citizens, has a vision of a future greater Boston occupying a place in the forefront among American cities that can be achieved only by a Mayor with Curley's ability, character and experience.

Mr. Curley's vision of a Greater Boston was recognized in his earliest acts in municipal office, as Councilman and Alderman and began materialization in his first administration as Mayor; when he inaugurated street widening and extension on a scale that met the problem of increased motor traffic; relieving congestion in every part of the city; and reclaiming derelict sections to such an extent that an era of massive building began in sections of the city that had been almost entirely abandoned as sites for investment building.

Under the stimulus of his wise plan of street widening and improvement, the city has experienced a building movement which has added more than $100,000,000 to its taxable property list and furnished permanent employment for thousands of its citizens; in a single year of his last administration $40,000,000 was invested in new buildings in the city.

In his valedictory of 1924 occurs the further outline of his plans for a Greater Boston, embracing the cities and towns so contiguous to Boston that they constitute an actual geographical unit, and so interlarded with commercial and social activities that they are in reality one community, divided only by the several boundaries of municipal authority.

Mr. Curley's plans and experience in addition to maintaining his policy of adequate salaries for police, firemen, teachers, and workers in every city department, welfare extension, adequate schoolhouses, recreation and playgrounds, health units, hospital extension, and general public betterments with just and equitable taxes, include the unification of transportation throughout the contemplated area for the betterment and convenience of its 2,000,000 inhabitants with a central terminal, for all lines, within a few minutes walk of the heart of the business district, enabling residents in every part of the district to reach their objectives in the city and return to their homes with the least possible expenditure of time.

The co-ordinating of both land and sea systems of freight and passenger carrying to and from Boston to afford the maximum of expedition and safety and minimizing of day traffic congestion by a system of after-midnight freight collections and deliveries direct to the business houses, through an extended system and use of our city way and street rails, thereby relieving traffic conditions in the daytime.

The operation and extension of the Boston Elevated service on the best plan submitted and adopted on a referendum to all the voters affected by it, and with the end in view of securing the best service and the lowest possible rate of fare. His plan for unification and transportation, and freight-handling co-ordinating with the sea traffic will make Boston the most attractive city on the Eastern coast, both as a point of embarkation and port of entry.

In recognition of Mr. Curley's achievements in the office of Mayor and the great municipal benefits that will follow the execution of his plans for Greater Boston, thousands of Boston's best citizens in every way of life have circulated and signed the following endorsement and petition to their fellow citizens to support his candidacy for re-election Tuesday, November 5th.

FOLLOWING IS THE TEXT AND A FEW OF THE SIGNATURES OF THE ENDORSEMENT AND PETITION OF LEADING CITIZENS OF BOSTON

"The prosperity of the City and the happiness of its people depend in large measure upon industrial and commercial stability and progress. That Boston may be privileged to enjoy for the next four years competent, aggressive and trained leadership, we, the undersigned, endorse and recommend to our fellow Bostonians for the office of Mayor, Hon. James M. Curley, and urge his election.

FRAMINGHAM SCENE OF NEXT AIR MEET

By GEORGE W. HAMBLEN

After sparkling success at Worcester airport with his two-day visit, Harland F. Banks, head of a National Air Pageant Association, has decided that his next effort will be in Framingham, where will run a two-day meet, Nov. 1 and 2.

The affair will be novel, inasmuch as there will not be any parading. Both days will be devoted to concentrated aerial stunts, the greatest of which will be the appearance of that strutting boy, Billie Leonard, in his two-spot plane.

When we write that Leonard is to perform anywhere, it means that the meet will be a success from the very start, because any single person who has ever seen this boy perform has been filled to their teeth. What a lot he is!

While Banks hasn't completed arrangements for the show, he has positively decided that there will be at least 10 airplanes entered, all of which he knows for something or other. There will be light airplanes than anything else, and every one of the ships is being something all the time.

Banks, as you know, has been making air meets ever since they were invented, and it is his proud boast that no one has ever seen him while attending or flying at one of which he can be justly proud, and Harland has the show itself, which means that he has the crowd that they want.

"I have been trying to find out there has been a meet held in New England at which there isn't any passenger carrying," said Banks, "but I have come to a conclusion that this will be the end of it."

When Walter Rogers, of Davis 3 monoplane fame heard of the set, he was so tickled that he decided that his pilot, Guy "Gus" Smith, would be officially known as stuntman instead of captain, as was dubbed in the papers the day before. When interviewed on the subject, Ham declared that he would not say in the matter, except that to be called captain was to climb the ladder of success quickly.

Ed Walter and Gus will take in Framingham meet. Banks is promised to let us know more about the two-day aerial whoopee party in the near future, and also announce the complete program of events.

The radio beam and radio rather service that has been under construction at the airport and will be ready for operation before the end of the week, at the latest, early next week, according to an announcement made by Ralph Boney, who will be in charge of the station—the hand. Arranged so that the plane flying the Boston-New York airway will be constantly in communication with the stations here, at Haverhill and Haverhill Field, New Jersey, so service will greatly aid the plane flying regularly over the route, especially the Colonial Air transport's trimotored passenger triplane.

LETTERS FROM READERS

Sees City Halls Real Gateways to Peace

Editor Boston American:

May I be permitted to use of your column to point out a few facts regarding the work being carried on in the interest of world peace. We hear a good deal about various proposed pacts, treaties and leagues designed to bring nations in close union with one another, but it seems to me that one important factor is being overlooked.

Most of the proposals work down from the top, that is they seek to deal with nations, whereas the place to start is in the small towns and cities. We advocate peace and good will among nations, but the real need just now is good will among cities.

The city is the most important political unit and it is only by bringing about an intimate feeling of friendship that we can eventually effect world peace. City Hall is the gateway to world peace.

Since 1923 I have been engaged in the work of introducing cities to each other. This has been done mostly by letter and I have sent out more than 10,000 communications to cities all over the world. The results of this work have been gratifying. Many cities have exchanged communications of good will and only two meetings were exchanged between the mayor of Lawrence, Mass., and the mayor of Lawrence, Kansas, on the occasion of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the latter city.

I sincerely hope to see the day when there will be a new feeling of friendship among the cities of this country and of the world, a sense of peace that will unite the nations of the world and result in the bestment for war with all its suffering and misery.

Fine Swearers and Pay National Debt

Editor Boston American:

In attending a political rally the other evening near Boston, I was struck by a speaker who was using a swear word at a particular time during a claim that this summer, when he spoke, "Why," he said, "George Washington was one of the world's great swearers. It was at Monmouth on a day that would have made anyone swear so historians

"On that day George swore till the leaves shook on the trees. Never before was such swearing heard."

Notwithstanding all this, there is too much swearing striking our ears. It is heard in the subway, when a man misses the shutting door of a car. How too late, then he rips out an oath. There is a fine for swearing in Boston. If it were enforced it would pay the national debt.

FEAR WIFE, 19, IS SUICIDE IN CHARLTON

Worcester, Oct. 31 (AP).—Mona from her Charlton home since Tuesday, when she left a note saying she intended to end her life. Mrs. Elizabeth Payne, 19, was today the subject of a search by county and city police at the request of her father.

According to the family, Mrs. Payne who has been separated from her husband two years, left the house Tuesday noon, ostensibly on a visit to her father's office in Southbridge. Alarmed when they found the "suicide note," the family began a search which revealed the missing girl had not reached the hotel.

The note read:
"I realize I am not fit to take care of and bring up my baby. I am just worthless. Am taking the nearest way out into the lake. Kiss Daddy for me and try to forget me if you can."

ELIZABETH
The child is two years old. The whereabouts of the husband is not known. He was a native of Missouri.

Seeks to Improve North End Traffic

Improvement of traffic conditions in the North End will be sought by Edward P. Hach, candidate for the City Council from Ward 3.

Hach, 31, declared today in announcing his plans to improve traffic conditions in the district.

The candidate lives at 29 Church street.

He is a half-commissioner, 3 members of Ward 3 Democratic Committee, of the Knights of Columbus and many other organizations.

URGE HOOVER'S AID FOR DEEP WATERWAY

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP).—A committee of the Atlantic Deepwaterway Association called upon President Hoover at the White House to solicit his support for the completion of the intra-coastal canal linking Florida with New England.

The President was informed that the greater portion of this waterway has been made navigable and was asked for special consideration for the New Jersey ship canal, which they desired to have deepened to 25 feet from Perth Amboy to Bordentown, N. J.

The committee, which was headed by J. Hampton Moore, president of the association and former congressman, told Mr. Hoover they expected the New Jersey ship canal to carry a tonnage ultimately equal to that of the Suez or Panama canals.

In his Louisville speech on waterways, Mr. Hoover mentioned as part of his program the completion of an additional 100 miles of intra-coastal canals.

Safety Drive Cuts Lowell Accidents

Lowell, Oct. 31.—The advantage of the traffic drive being waged by the police here, miniature accidents was disclosed when Police Supt. Hugh Downey reported a pronounced decrease in the total number of persons injured.

PLAYS BRIDGE AS DAD FIGHTS DEATH CHAIR

Weatherford, Tex., Oct. 31.—The rainy stage of the country court room here was set today for the drama of a 19-year-old widow endeavoring to save from death the father who killed her youthful husband.

Principals in this trial of evil life are R. H. Hamilton, ex-vice former judge of the Supreme Court of Appeals, university professor, churchman, and admitted believer in summary justice; and his widowed daughter, Theresa.

Judge Hamilton is known as "Judge" up and down the Texas country. He is accused of having shot his son-in-law, Tom Watson, Jr., when the youth went to the barbers to get a haircut. The judge is accused of having shot the youth in the back of the head during the trial playing bridge in the hotel of which his father has reserved the entire top floor. For his sin as a witness, he has been barred from the courtroom.

Witnesses have testified Judge Hamilton exclaimed immediately after the boy fell with five shots through his chest.

"I would rather be killed myself than kill a man except to save my family."

The state has unexpectedly rested its case, with 20 witnesses called. Testimony had been introduced that the youthful husband was seen by his mother, who was sure "the judge will understand," that she had heard a minute after he walked through the lawyer's office door, and that he was found dead, with Hamilton standing across the room.

Today Judge Hamilton himself probably will take the stand. He, his daughter and other members of his family have maintained silence since the shooting. After him will appear Theresa.

REVEALS CURE FOR MEASLES

San Francisco, Oct. 31 (AP).—Prevention and cure of measles may result from the discovery of a serum being studied in the University of California Medical School.

Prof. Giuseppe Caronia, brought here from Rome as research professor, is announced as discoverer of a germ said to cause measles, as well as a serum for prevention and cure.

So tiny is the germ, doctors said, it cannot be seen even through a microscope. By studying certain peculiarities of the disease and after effects, often serious and permanent, Prof. Caronia is said to have discovered the cause.

Guinea pigs, mice, pigs and rabbits have been inoculated with the germ then treated with the serum. The results were described as "highly satisfactory" by Dean Langley Porter.

Averescu Demands Government Quit

Hutchinson, Okla., Oct. 31 (AP).—Biting took place in the streets of the capital after a torrid meeting of General Averescu's liberal party, which demanded the resignation of the present Manu government.

Police activities enraged the liberal party leaders, who telephoned the secretary of the interior they would chastise him if he ventured on the street. Later General Averescu sent a division to the agency repeating the demand for deposition of the present government.

Tells Churches to Have More 'Whoopie'

Chicago, Oct. 31 (AP).—John H. Hoken, treasurer, told the American Federation of Laborers, Brotherhood of Railroad Employees, and other labor organizations that they should have more "whoopie" in their churches.

"The average church," he said, "is a dull, lifeless, and uninspired institution. It is a place where people go to be preached at, but where they do not have any fun. It is a place where people go to be preached at, but where they do not have any fun. It is a place where people go to be preached at, but where they do not have any fun."

NO MORE TRAVELING FOR KNUTE ROCKNE

Knute Rockne, who has been traveling extensively since his return from the trip to Hanover, N. H., will no longer be traveling for the team. He will be staying at the hotel where the team is practicing, and he will be able to spend more time with the team.

NO MORE TRAVELING FOR KNUTE ROCKNE

The above photo shows Knute Rockne at the Notre Dame-Carnegie Tech game. He traveled from Notre Dame to Pittsburgh against the advice of physicians and, as the long trip aggravated his condition, he has been warned not to travel any more lest the leg infection, which has laid him up, prove fatal. (International Newsweek photo.)

HARVEEN PICKS NEW BACKFIELD

A new combination of Harvard backfield men will face Florida when the Crimson and the Southerners clash in the Stadium Saturday. The quartet that is expected to carry the Crimson will be made up of Putnam at quarterback, Dwyer and probably Ed Maya as half-backs, and Walter Harper at full-back. In the event that Ed Maya does not start for Harvard, his place will be taken by either Harry Wood or Art Hagen. The quartet is expected to be a very strong one, and it is hoped that they will be able to lead the team to a victory over Florida.

B. C. TEAM SHAKES UP

The Boston College team has shaken up its lineup for the game against Duke. The team has been practicing hard since their return from the trip to Hanover, N. H., and it is expected that they will be in top condition for the game.

CHUCK CAGLE AND MURPHY

Chuck Cagle and Murphy are the best backs in the game. They have been practicing hard since their return from the trip to Hanover, N. H., and it is expected that they will be in top condition for the game.

Rival Lines Will Decide Yale-Dartmouth Battle

GREEN LINE ADOPT NEW TACTICS

By RALPH GILROY

Former Princeton star and all-American back

THE eyes of Eastern football lovers will be trained on the Yale-Dartmouth clash on an Eli-Blood Saturday when the Eli-Blood will be clanking at the invading Dartmouth Indians; while local followers of the pickens game will have plenty of opportunity to gain admittance to the Harvard Stadium to watch a highly touted "clash" outfit from far off Florida try to smother down the Crimson.

Undoubtedly the best Eastern attraction for this Saturday, and the game which will mean most to the final selection for the best Eastern eleven at the season's close, will bring together Yale and Dartmouth at the Yale Bowl.

This battle between the Bull Dog and the Indian is significant for two reasons. Jack Cannell and his eleven will try with all their might to break a jinx which has said in the past that the best Eastern eleven that can be assembled cannot take over a victory. Albany, both of the Eli-Blood and the Dartmouth men are fighting to get in that All-American backfield, and you may be sure each eleven will do its best to suffer the opportunity of its climax.

OWES FAME TO BROTHER

Sam Fishman, above, captain and star of Malden high eleven, who was given opportunity to gain grid fame by the sacrifice of his brother "Ike," a great player himself, quit football to work so that Sam might play.

Brother Helps Sam Fishman to Fame

SAM FISHMAN, stocky halfback of the Malden high eleven, as one of the best schoolboy ball carriers in the State this year. And his work on the gridiron has won him a high place among sports fans in Greater Boston.

Few of the folks who see Fishman step around the football field know the full story on this unusual young man, or know that he has a brother, Isaac, who, having a great deal of athletic ability, sacrificed his chance to play for Malden high in order that Sam might play on the grid.

Sam, a year ago, Sam and Isaac Fishman played on the Lincoln Junior high eleven of Malden. They have both played in the backfield, but the star, Sam, in a halfback position, and Isaac, or Ike, as he is called, in the quarterback position. Both could run with the ball, toss forward and back, and either one could back up a line on the defense. It seemed that there was to be a brother combination of the best in the history of school football.

THEY went through their season with Lincoln Junior high team, and finished their courses and went to the Malden senior high school. All went along serenely for a time while the two boys, by hard work, became, both as athletes, not only as athletes, but also as scholars. Then, just when it seemed that the boys might begin to make a name for themselves, the Fishman family sustained a terrible blow. The father of the family died. For a time it seemed that they might give needed assistance in helping to support the family. The chief source of revenue for the family was a billiard store which the father managed after the death of the father and where the boys worked in their spare time.

Matters were so arranged, however, that by dint of careful planning, the father's death did not mean that they might give needed assistance in helping to support the family. The chief source of revenue for the family was a billiard store which the father managed after the death of the father and where the boys worked in their spare time.

BOOTH STARS IN YALE ORILL

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 31

Some of the prettiest broken field running ever seen on the Anthony Thompson practice field was staged in a dramatic scrimmage between the Yale team and the freshman eleven, when Albie Booth and Bob Hill broke away from time again for long gains.

The Elms ran up a score of 14 to 0 before the regular and freshman teams were replaced by sub eleven.

On the Yale side, Booth and Hill were the stars, with Booth making a 40 yard run and Hill making a 30 yard run.

Boston's Latest Creations of Fashion Experts Worn by Elite at Garden

THE MOST OUTSTANDING social function of the year is taking place at the present time in the form of the Boston Horse Show. We have waited with the greatest of interest for the arrival of this spectacular event. The first evening performance had, until the present, the highest reputation of the horse show and the society elite. The row of boxes and the rows of seats above were filled with members of Boston's most prominent families and exhibitors from other cities.

EVERY household had its own share of the excitement. The social scene was a brilliant affair. The guests were the elite of the city. The show was a great success. The horses were of the highest quality. The society elite were in full evidence. The show was a great success. The horses were of the highest quality. The society elite were in full evidence.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE WEST of the town of Westchester, N. Y., were the guests of honor. They were accompanied by their daughter, Miss West. The show was a great success. The horses were of the highest quality. The society elite were in full evidence.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM C. COX (Jesse Hancock) were the guests of honor. They were accompanied by their daughter, Miss Cox. The show was a great success. The horses were of the highest quality. The society elite were in full evidence.

MRS. CHARLES GODDARD was the guest of honor. She was accompanied by her daughter, Miss Goddard. The show was a great success. The horses were of the highest quality. The society elite were in full evidence.

AMONG interested spectators at the Boston Horse Show opening were Patricia and Ann Bird, daughters of Reginald Bird; Martha Swift and Lillian Davidson. Boston Garden presented a brilliant display as society turned out for the big event.

Nature's oldest and purest sweet—honey—joins two other natural foods—fruit and whole wheat—in these quick muffins. And Crisco, the sweetest, freshest-flavored shortening you could possibly imagine, lends its freshness and pure flavor to the ensemble.

4 tablespoons melted Crisco
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup honey
1/2 cup thick sour milk
1 cup whole wheat flour
1/2 cup bread flour

Light and set over at 375° F. (medium oven). Mix sufficient Crisco for recipe and to brush into muffin tin. Beat the egg, stir in the honey and sour milk. Sift the two kinds of flour with soda, salt and baking powder, mix with the honey and stir into the first mixture. Add rungs and melted Crisco and beat well. Fill Criscoed muffin tin half full with batter. Bake in medium oven (375° F.) from 25 to 35 minutes. This makes 24 large muffins. I have reheated three muffins when they were a week old and found that Crisco had kept them fresh and moist.

This recipe has been tested and approved by cooking authorities. You will get best results by using level measurements and the ingredients specified.

Taste Crisco's sweet, fresh flavor

TASTE a cooking fat! And why not? You taste milk. You test eggs. Now, taste Crisco—then any other shortening. Then you'll understand why Crisco's own sweet, fresh flavor so improves the taste of your cakes, pies, hot breads, cookies and fried foods.
